DPU CHEMISTRY STUDENTS SHOW SPLENDID RESULTS

The quality of work being done at DePauw University in the department of Chemistry is best exemplified by the results of the Cooperative Test given last June by the American Council of Education. This test was administered to 7,046 students in 138 colleges. These students had just completed the first year college course in general chemistry.
At DePauw seventy-nine students took this test with the following result: The mean score for the entire group of 7,046 students was 76.1. De-Pauw students had a mean score of 99.2. One DePauw student, Marrow Sinex, had the highest score reported in any part of the country and there were twenty-three, or almost 30 percent who ranked in the highest ten percent of all scores reported.
Dr. Jesse L. Riebocker, new head of the department of Chemistry, expressed himself as greatly pleased with this excellent showing of De-Pauw students.

Bartlett Chosen State Chairman

DEPAUW DEAN APPOINTED TO HEAD COMMITTEE ON RE-LIGIOUS EDUCATION

Dr. E. R. Bartlett, new Dean of DePauw University and head of the department of Religious Education, has been made chairman of the Committee on Religious Education recently appointed by the Indiana State Board of Education. The purpose of this important committee is to consider the advisability of drafting a course of instruction for the public school system of Indiana which offers non-sectarian study of religion.

The committee was appointed by Dr. C. T. Malan, state superintendent of public instruction, and the personnel was drawn from leaders of the Protestant, Catholic and Jewish faiths. DePauw is honored in having the chairmanship in the hands of one of its faculty members.
Deann Bartlett is president of the Indiana Council of Christian Education.

Other members of his committee include Mgrs. Henry Dugan of Indianapolis; M. C. Darnall, superintendent of schools at Crawfordsville; Mrs. Asa E. Hoy, president of the Indiana Council of Church Women, Indianapolis; John S. Hussey, county superintendent of schools, Noblesville; E. T. Albertson, general secris M. Feuerlicht of Indianapolis.

COUNCILMEN HAD MEETING MONDAY EVE

GWIN ENSIGN ABLE TO ATTEND FIRST SESSION IN THREE MONTHS

BUILDING PERMITS GRANTED

Further Information Requested In Regards To Removing Watchman
At Monon Crossing

City Councilman Gwin Ensign, who is recovering from a serious illness, was welcomed back by his colleagues at the Monday evening session of Greencastle's official family. It was the first council meeting that Mr.
Ensign has been able to attend in three months and needless to say, he was glad to be counted as present when City Clerk Paul Grimes called the roll.

The question of the Monon railroad's request for the city to repeal an ordinance of 1902, so that the north Jackson street crossing watchman could be removed, allowing electric flasher signals to give warning of approaching trains, was the first item of business brought before the council. According to a letter read by the city clerk, the state highway commission has jurisdiction in the matter but the railroad wants the city's approval as well as the repealing of the old statute.

The fact that the Big Four railroad switching tracks at the same crossing were not protected by signal lights was brought up in the discussion. It was said that the Monon watchman also flagged traffic when engines or trains were operating on this spur line, besides his regular job of guarding the Monon's tracks.

Councilman Fred Starr moved that the city attorney, John Allee, write the state highway department regarding the matter before any further action was taken by the council.
The motion carried unanimously.

The claim ordinance was introduced by Councilman Ensign and was passed after reading.

Several petitions for building permits were presented and approval granted. These petitions included a request for permission to remodel the old Bicknell building on north Indiana street, just south of Holly's Garage by Perry & Leucus, contractors; remodeling of the Northern Indiana Power office building at 12-16 south Jackson street; Ethel Reeves to remodel the old Mathias property at 635 east Seminary street; J. Frank Durham to put up a sign over the sidewalk at 18½ east Washington street; O. D. Williams, to paint the Kroger building at the corner of Washington and Indiana, and to have ladder space for same.

The clerk read a request from Chief of Police Ed Maddox in which he asked for a ninety-day leave of absence effective September 20th.
This was granted by the council with very little discussion. According to information released by DePauw university yesterday, Chief Maddox is to be the new night watchman at the Methodist institution. Policeman "Buck" Nelson is acting as chief at present but no official appointments have been announced by Mayor W. D. James.

COMMISSIONER IMPROVING

Putnam County Commissioner, Wallace Spencer, is slowly improving at his home north of Greencastle.

Hamburg Blasted By RAF Bombers

BRITISH FLIERS REPORT MANY FIRES IN SHIPYARD AND RAILROAD AREAS

LONDON, Sept. 16.—(UP)—Brish long range bombing planes, attacking Hamburg, Germany's greatest port, for hours during the night, left many large fires burning in shipyard and railroad areas, it was asserted today.

Authoritative sources emphasized that the raid was made by a powerful force of Britain's biggest and best bombing planes and was an unusually long one.

In addition to attacking Hamburg, one of Germany's most bombed cities, British planes attacked the German submarine bases and ports of Wilhelmshaven and Cuxhaven.

Another force heavily raided Le Havre on the French invasion coast.

It was admitted that nine bombing planes failed to return from the night's operations.

LOCAL GIRL WALKED IN ON NEW YORK HOLDUP

Miss Lucille Gillespie, of New York City, daughter of the late L.
R. J. Gillespie, of Greencastle, recently had the thrilling experience of being one of the "guests" at the holdup of a store in the city of her residence. She wrote to Mrs. Gillespie concerning it:

I went around the corner from where I live to the drug store. When I went into it, I thought things looked rather quiet and when I saw a man there I asked him where holdup of a store in the city of her residence was.

I saw a strange man, who asked me if I wanted anything. I asked him if he knew where Henry was.
He said "Henry is out." And so he was.

I asked the man: "Is something going on around here?"

He said: "Yes, and you get into the back room!"

He had a gun and I went fast into the back room, and there I found Henry, and another man had a gun pointed at him. We had to wait for what seemed to me to be a terribly long time before they let us out. They had robbed the cash register and took Henry's and my purses, and then they went on down the street and robbed two other stores before they were caught. It was a thrill, but I don't want it to happen to me again.

Putnamville, has received his official certification of his commission from Governor Henry M. Schriener, as of August 15, 1941, for a term of four years as superintendent of the farm, or until a successor qualifies as superintendent.

Mr. Hemmer was heartily recommended to the governor for this extension of his commission by the four members of the board of trustees who are John M. McFadden, president, of Rockville; Walter F. Jones, McDonnell, Jr., secretary, of Attica; and Austin E. Kress, treasurer, ed as superintendent, as of July 15, 1937, succeeding Ralph Howard, who, recently, has been named head of the state's excise police department.

Mr. Hemmer, a former member of the Indiana State Legislature, has become widely known among persons interested in the rehabilitation of men who have earned prison or penal farm sentences by reason of their failure to stiffen their resistance to temptation. Mr. Hemmer has spoken at many places, on reform topics.

Mr. Hemmer has many intimate friends in Greencastle who will be pleased to learn of his new commission and wish for him the same great success in his work that he has accomplished during the past several years.

CONTENTS OF CHURCH BOX OF INTEREST

RECOVERED FROM RECENT FIRE OF CLOVERDALE
METHODIST CHURCH

MEETING AT ROGERS' HOME

Metal Box Opened In Presence Of Church Officials; 1905 Banner Among Its Contents

At a meeting of members of the official boards and committees of the Methodist church of Cloverdale, at the home of Mrs. Anna Rogers, Monday evening, there was opened the metallic box which has had a resting place in the corner stone of that house of worship, since the year 1872. The box was taken out of its miniature crypt in the year 1905, at which time the church building was remodeled and to the original contents of the box at that time were added records pertaining to the remodeling and the contributors to its cost at that time. It was resealed and replaced in its resting place, and was not disturbed again until a few days after the burning of the structure, September 8.

The opening of the sealed container Monday evening was the climax of a preliminary meeting of persons deeply interested in the church.
There was a prayer by the Rev. Donus Denny for the spiritual guidance of the footsteps of the church's officers and members and a few talks from individuals in the small gathering. Mr. Denny was given an invitation to be present because Hiram G.
Macy, his grandfather, had been one of the church's leader in an early day.

After the meeting, Ralph Fry and Robert Frazier, trustees, and Estes Duncan, church treasurer, took the box and its precious contents to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan, where the Daily Banner writer was given the privilege of examining them. The odor of age permeated the box and its contents. The box is 5½ inches square and 3½ inches high, made of copper plated metal.

The contents of the receptacle, named in the order in which they were found in their resting place, included the following:

A small copy of the Bible.
A copy of the Western Christian Advocate of the year 1905.

A copy of the Greencastle Banner, May 15, 1905, of which Harry M.
Smith was proprietor at that time.

A copy of the Cloverdale Graphic, of which John Akers was editor.

A list of the "officiary" of the church of 1905, and contributors to the remodeling fund of that year.

A similar list pertaining to the year 1872, when the church was erected. Also, there were lists of the names of the president and vice president of the United States, of the governor and lieutenant governor. At the time of the remodeling, Theodore Roosevelt was president.

In addition to the above, there were other items of interest to members of the congregation and the community as a whole.

The church "officiary" May 22, 1905, included: Rev. John H. Dodd-ridge and Rev. Richard W. Raaf, presiding elders; John W. O'Daniel, Hiram G. Macy, Enos A. Wood, Isaac S. Sinclair, and Estes Duncan, trustees; John W. O'Daniel, William N.
Evans, Robert Frazier, John C.
Knight, and Nathan W. Fowler, stewards; Wm. N. Evans, treasurer; Thompson Brown, Alva Hartsaw, class leaders.

The list of contributors to the fund required for the remodeling in 1905 included the following:

John W. O'Daniel, Lucy O'Daniel, William W. O'Daniel, Emily O'Daniel, Eva M. O'Daniel, George D. Appleby, Martha Appleby, Cicely V. Boes, Theodore Boes, H. C. Foster, Isaac Gilmore, Hiram G. Gilmore, Perry L.
Hubbard, Jesse Hubbard, John Mc-Avoy, John C. Aker, Daniel V. Moffett, Willis Gill, James F. O'Brien,

NEW PORTS OPENED TO U. S. BOATS

U. S. NAVY INAUGURATES ES-CORT SERVICE IN NORTH ATLANTIC

RULING BY ATTY.-GENERAL

Far-Flung Ports Of Call Now Opened To Ships Carrying Lend-Lease War Cargoes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—(UP)— The United States Navy was believed today to be inaugurating a north Atlantic escort service for lend-lease shipping coincident with an administrative ruling which opened vital ports to American flag ships bearing war materials for the British. The new ruling opens far flung routes for munitions cargoes which the axis wants to sink.

These developments, in effect, are designed further to open ocean channels to aid-to-Britain munitions for which President Roosevelt will ask a new $5,985,000,000 lend-lease appropriation Thursday. He reported to Congress yesterday that $324,563,000 in war materials, essential supplies and services had been transferred to axis opponents since the appropriation of $7,000,000,000 of lend-lease funds last March. The balance of that sum has been contracted for or allocated.

The administrative ruling announced last night permits American-flag ships to carry war materials and passengers to African and Asiatic ports of the British empire from which they previously had been barred under terms of the Neutrality Act.

The State Department announced that Attorney General Francis Biddle, in his first major ruling in that capacity, had held that President Roosevelt's proclamation that a state of war existed between "Germany and the United Kingdom, India, Australia, Canada, New Zealand and the Union of South Africa" applies only to England, Wales, Scotland and northern Ireland so far as the United Kingdom is concerned.
Biddle excluded much of the colonial empire.

That does not mean that American

Stilesville Boy Killed By Swing

UNUSUAL FATAL ACCIDENT
TOOK PLACE AT SCHOOL
GROUND TUESDAY

Robert Terrell, eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Noble Terrell, living on the Putnam-Hendricks county line, near the "Y" was killed in a peculiar accident at the Stilesville school building Tuesday morning.

The boy, with two other lads, was on an iron swing. The swing was supported by a tubular piece of steel, some 12 feet long and about two inches in diameter. The combined weight of the bar and the two other boys on the swing was about 250 pounds and it broke under this weight and struck the Terrell boy on the head. His skull was crushed and he was rendered unconscious immediately and died within ten minutes. Dr. Wright of Stilesville was called but he died about the time the physician arrived.

CITY GARBAGE COLLECTION IS COUNCIL TOPIC

HEATED DISCUSSION TAKES PLACE AT SESSION MON-

ORDINANCE REPEAL HINTED

Councilmen Ask Mayor James To Show Improvement In Matter
By Next Meeting

The problem of collecting garbage in Greencastle was the subject of a heated discussion during the regular meeting of the city council Monday night.

Councilmen charged that garbage was not being collected properly and Mayor W. D. James, who has this matter under his personal jurisdiction, stated that he was doing all he could to have the garbage collected but in order to do a satisfactory job, he would have to have the cooperation of the public.

A petition, presented to the council by E. H. Collins and signed by 28 representative citizens, was read by Paul Grimes, city clerk. The petition requested that something be done in regards to the garbage collection.

The four councilmen present, R. R.
Neal, Fred Starr, Robert Stoner and Gwin Ensign, all said that they had received numerous complaints on the existing situation.

In the course of the discussion, the members of the council indicated that unless the garbage collection problem improved immediately, the present city ordinance pertaining to this matter, might be repealed and other changes made.

The councilmen asked the mayor to put on another man and another truck, but he said he could not afford to do this. A point was brought up that if, under the present set-up, the garbage could not be collected satisfactorily during the summer months, it could not be adequately taken care of with the university reopening the dorms and fraternity houses.

Finally, after additional and rather warm conversation on the matter, the council, with Mr. Neal acting as spokesman, told the mayor that they wanted to see an improvement in the situation by the next regular meeting night, Monday, October 6. Mayor James said, he would do his utmost to relieve present conditions. To The Daily Banner reporter present, he asked that the public be urged to set out garbage cans where they could be seen and consequently not missed by the collector. "Cans won't be missed if they are not set behind grape arbors and behind locked screen doors," said the mayor.

Putnam Boys In Army Maneuvers

GREENCASTLE AND COUNTY MEN IN ARMY GAMES WITH 38TH DIVISION

With Putnam County Men in the 38th Division, at Headquarters, Flatwoods, La. (By Mail)—Despite the rigors of life in the field the health and accident record of the 18,000 men of the 38th Division has been better since the beginning of the Louisiana maneuvers four weeks ago than in any similar period since the Division's induction into federal service last January, Major General Dan I. Sultan, division commander, proudly announced today.

"One of the primary purposes of extensive field maneuvers is the physical toughening of the men and our excellent health record proves without question that objective," General Sultan said. "Our men are gaining in physical strength as rapidly as they are progressing in military knowledge."

"Newspaper reports emanating from Camp Shelby concerning the number of admissions to the base hospital there are distorted and misleading. The records of our Division surgeon, Col. Franklin T. Hallam, show the true state of our health."

These records show that the illness and accident rate is less than one-half of the average rate for the previous six months. There has not been a single death from motor accidents and there have been fewer accidental injuries than in any previous month. There are no contagious diseases in the Division and the incidence of respiratory disease has decreased markedly. There has been a reduction of nearly 60 per cent in the number of men answering sick call and fewer soldiers were off duty because of illness than in any other month.

"The greatest weakness our men have shown is their fondness for telling tall stories of encounters with poisonous snakes," General Sultan said. "In spite of these tales, which unfortunately seem to have reached the people back home, there has not been a single authenticated case of snakebite since we have been in the field."

High School Highlights

(By Georgia Anne Zeis)

Yesterday the students of the junior and senior high school began their second week of the fall term at Greencastle high school. Classes are going smoothly and the students have settled down to regular routine. The seventh grade pupils have lost their air of bewilderment and are hurrying to classes like the older students.

The class of 1942 held its first meeting with Ed York, junior president last year, presiding. Officers for next spring's graduating class were elected as follows: President, Frank Huestis; vice-president, Bill Moseley; secretary, Bob Turner; treasurer, Bob Bills. At 2 o'clock, Monday afternoon, Jesse M. Evans, living four miles south of Cloverdale, in the north edge of Owen county, just west of road 45, while he was working in a field on his farm, saw flames rising from his farm house and was unable to save anything. Not only his own household goods were destroyed in the flames but also the household goods of his son, wife, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Evans, residing in the same home. The loss was approximately $2,000. The cause of the fire was not determined, unless it was a defect in the chimney in the kitchen.

The reminiscences of Emory Braintain concerning the operations of the Michigan Tie company in the woods west of Vivalia, years ago, stirred the memory of Jas. L. Hamilton on the same subject. He was building bridges for the Big Four, at west Putnam, at the time the tie company had its timber camps in operation. The young man, son or the head of the tie company, who assembled a sort of railroad train to get the ties to the railroad sidings, for shipment was Charley French and Mr. Hamilton said he and Mrs. French have visited with him and Mrs. Hamilton, often. Mrs. French lived at the tie company's headquarters in the woods west of Vivalia, and had a grand piano in their woods cabin. They had a son, Robert, who was killed in an airplane accident. Charley French is in California now, Mr. Hamilton thinks. He is a construction engineer.

Apparently, there has not been at any time a question in the minds of the church officers and the members of the congregation, and in the minds of the people of the entire community, concerning the building of a new sanctuary to be the place of worship of the people who were, last week, deprived of their spiritual home. The new pastor, the Rev. A. L. Meredith, is expected to give his efficient aid to the movement.

At the meeting of trustees and the church treasurer, Monday evening, there was a start given the rebuilding movement. It is expected the trustees will soon name a building committee whose members will be authorized to name other helpers.

It is said the indications now are that the rebuilding campaign will have the hearty support of the entire community, the population as a mass recognizing the value of a Methodist church and its active congregation in the development and maintenance of the spiritual and cultural life of the town.

Announcement will be made later of the definite plans for the work.

DePauw News

Dr. Henry B. Longden, vice-president emeritus of DePauw, received an ovation at chapel Tuesday morning at which he was the speaker. Dr. Longden was celebrating his sixtieth anniversary as a member of the DePauw faculty, having been appointed an instructor of Latin the Fall of 1881.

"It is," said Dr. Longden, "hard for the old and the young to establish any sort of interchange of ideas. The world today moves so much faster than it did that the old have difficulty in keeping up. Nothing stands still long enough to be inspected."

In looking for something stable and unchangeable in the modern world, one finally arrives at proverbs which are the result of man's experience and always true. There is no such thing as a new proverb, Dr. Longden said, at best it is only a wisecrack. Out of all the proverbs, there was one which impressed Dr. Longden as being especially true. That proverb, from the French, says: "Be careful what you set your heart on, for you're sure to get it."

Using this as his theme, Dr. Longden cited examples of DePauw men who had set their hearts on some worthy ambition and achieved it. Living together in a Greencastle room were Albert J. Beveridge and David Graham Phillips. Beveridge while in college practiced oratory, read of the world's great orators, and entered all of the college contests. In that day prize money was awarded to the winning orator and one year Albert Beveridge paid his college expenses with his prize money. Each morning for four years he would arise at 6:30, walk to the woods, and there on a beech-tree carve the letter "S," standing for success. In his own ritual to the gods of success. When he left DePauw he announced that he intended to study law and enter the Senate within ten years. And, according to his biographers, ten years after entering law, he was a member of the Senate where his contributions to American policy were outstanding.

David Graham Phillips, Dr. Longden said, set his heart on being a novelist. After leaving DePauw he wrote serials for magazines always working on a novel for publication. Finally came "Susan Lenox" called by some the greatest novel in the American manner.

David Graham Phillips made a great contribution to the development of American prose writing. He was a realist in a day when any sort of realism was frowned upon by polite society. Finally, while he was walking down a New York Street, a maniac who had been so incensed at the realism of Phillips' writing, shot him.

These two men, Dr. Longden pointed out, had the desire to succeed, had set their heart on something almost to the point of an obsession. If one sets his heart on something, he has no right to fear. The trouble is not so much in getting what one wants, it is getting what one needs.

After Dr. Longden finished his speech he was called back by the applause of the audience. The applause was stopped finally by President Clyde E. Wildman who suggested that the chapel be closed by singing the DePauw Toast for Dr. Longden.

NEW PORTS OPENED

merchant ships can enter any existing combat zone—to reach the ports of Eire, for instance—but it will enable them henceforth to carry passengers and munitions to such places as Aden, at the entrance of the Red sea, and to Suez, at the head of the Red sea and at the entrance of the Suez canal. Both of these may prove to be of tremendous importance in the development of the Anglo-Russian counterattack in the near East.

Empire areas in Africa opened now to unrestricted commerce with American merchant vessels include: Gambia, Sierra Leone, Gold Coast, Togo, Tanganyika, Kenya, British Somaliland and the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan. Asiatic areas include Kuwait, a protectorate at the head of the Gulf of Persia through which part of the allied near eastern forces probably will be supplied, Malay states, Burma, Straits Settlements, Hongkong, North Borneo, British holdings in the western hemisphere largely were exempted in part from Neutrality Act restrictions at the outset.

Prior to Biddle's new ruling the phrase "United Kingdom" had been interpreted to embrace all empire areas except those specifically exempted. On that interpretation, American merchant vessels could trade with any British area which actually lay outside a combat zone but they were prohibited from carrying passengers or guns, ammunition, tanks, airplanes and such munitions. They now may carry arms and ammunition to non-combat areas.
